Local area prepares for winter weather this week

Alabama Governor Kay Ivey issued a state of emergency Monday, Jan. 20, for 39 counties, including Coffee County, ahead of a winter storm forecast for the south portion of the state.

"Alabama, once again, is faced with the potential for winter weather, but this time, for the southern half of the state," Governor Ivey said. "We are anticipating potentially dangerous and uncertain driving conditions in the impacted portions of the state, so I am urging Alabamians to err on the side of caution and limit their travel. Make any necessary preparations now, stay tuned in to your weather forecasts and stay warm."

The counties included in the state of emergency include: Autauga, Baldwin, Barbour, Bibb, Bullock, Butler, Chambers, Chilton, Choctaw, Clarke, Coffee, Conecuh, Coosa, Covington, Crenshaw, Dale, Dallas, Elmore, Escambia, Geneva, Greene, Hale, Henry, Houston, Lee, Lowndes, Macon, Marengo, Mobile, Monroe, Montgomery, Perry, Pike, Randolph, Russell, Sumter, Tallapoosa, Washington and Wilcox.

The state of emergency went into effect Monday at 5 p.m. and remains in effect for the duration of the state of emergency. Alabama law specifies that a state of emergency ordinarily will last 60 days; however, it may be terminated earlier by written proclamation.

The proclamation issued on the state of emergency noted, "NOW THEREFORE, I, Kay Ivey, Governor of the State of Alabama, pursuant to the relevant provisions of the Alabama Emergency Management Act of 1955, as amended, Ala. Code§§ 31-9-1 et seq., do hereby proclaim that a state of emergency exists for the following counties effective as of 5:00 p.m. CST on January 20, 2025: Autauga, Baldwin, Barbour, Bibb, Bullock, Butler, Chambers, Chilton, Choctaw, Clarke, Coffee, Conecuh, Coosa, Covington, Crenshaw, Dale, Dallas, Elmore, Escambia, Geneva, Greene, Hale, Henry, Houston, Lee, Lowndes, Macon, Marengo, Mobile, Monroe, Montgomery, Perry, Pike, Randolph, Russell, Sumter, Tallapoosa, Washington, and Wilcox. I hereby direct the activation of the Alabama Emergency Operations Plan and all appropriate annexes for purposes of the State's response to this winter weather event."

On Monday afternoon, Coffee County Emergency Management Agency [CCEMA] director Grant Lyons said Coffee County had been placed under a "Winter Storm Warning" from noon Tuesday, Jan. 21, to 6 a.m. Wednesday, Jan. 22nd. He said the storm predictions were for the area to receive heavy mixed precipitation with total snow and sleet accumulations up to two inches [with locally higher amounts].

"Plan on slippery road conditions, beginning as early as noon Tuesday," Lyons said. "Once winter precipitation and accumulations begin, all travel will be hazardous and not recommended."

Further, Lyons said in addition to snow, the area could expect very cold temperatures over the next few days and nights.

"Make sure to plan and prepare ahead of the storm," he said. "Remember the 4 P's: People, Pets, Plants, and Pipes."

Warming stations for the county also were announced. The primary station is the Christian Mission Center, located at 231 Geneva Hwy., Enterprise [phone 334-393-2607]. The secondary station will be First Methodist Enterprise, 217 Main St., Enterprise, should the Christian Mission location reach capacity.

Windy Thoughts

with Linda Hodge, Editor

We've been thinking quite a bit lately on the principal's position for Elba High School. We were in complete agreement with superintendent and school board members in naming Dr. Tyler Booker as interim principal for the high school. In the time we have spent around Dr. Booker and hearing from others who know him both professionally and personally, we have no doubt that he will do a fantastic job in this interim role. It is our understanding, however, that his plans are to return to his previous positions with the Elba School System - special education coordinator and federal programs coordinator - when it comes time to hire a full-time person for the job. We can understand that and respect his position on that, but we would not be upset if he did choose to apply to take on the position in a more permanent role...just throwing that thought out there.

Now, looking to what's next. Superintendent Donny Powell has said the tentative plan for the job is to advertise in February and hopefully have a hire ready by March. We hold a very strong opinion that this hire is now more than ever a very crucial hire for the Elba School System. School report card grades made public in December showed that Elba High School is not making the grade that is desired, and quite frankly demanded, by those of us who love the school. Improvements must be made. Getting to those improvement must begin with the best leadership we can offer our students. We need someone that demands positive results from teachers and students but knows how to also show those same people they are loved and cared for by their leaders. The hire of Elba High School's next principal is the first step in putting shadows behind you. The past is the past. Elba High School and the Elba School System needs to be looking straight ahead in beginning a new journey to success. Again, that all begins with the next principal. We strongly encourage those making the decision on the high school's next principal to take that as serious as they've ever taken a school decision. The right person for the job - the one that demands improvement but does it by helping and encouraging - will get the ship righted!

Let's not foget too that we as the citizens of Elba can help the school by being involved and asking often what we can do to help. We firmly believe if we show our interest in the schools and what is happening within those walls, the students, faculty and administration will not only appreciate it but they will welcome it! We must do our part too to bring positive change. It takes us all working together...we can never say or write that enough!!

Now, in a bit of other news we've picked up on in recent days, it appears the "issues" that were holding up the Jack's Restaurant project have been settled. We have not heard anything 'official' from the powers that be regarding the project, but some very good sources have told us that things should begin moving forward with that project now. We might even see some dirt moving before long making way for the construction of the new restaurant in Elba.

There was an announcement made at the most recent Elba City Council meeting that yours truly had accepted the job to be Elba's new recreation director. Well...that announcement was correct. We have accepted the job and will begin that new adventure in February. We are excited to begin this new chapter in our life and having an opportunity to work to bring recreational activities to the city. Don't worry, however! The new job will not be taking us 'away' from The Elba Clipper. We believe we have found a way to be able to do both!! There are some changes in the works for the newspaper too that will ensure our work continues in keeping the community "in-the-know" with our local news! February 1st will start our 26th year being a part of The Elba Clipper, and we are very, very excited to realize an even bigger dream with the paper. None of this would have been possible without our support system...we truly believe we have the best in the world. Stay tuned for more details in the coming weeks.

The paper was printed early this week due to the potential of winter weather on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. As we are writing this column, the weather predictors say our area could receive an inch or more of accumlated snow. Whether you are reading this before or after the potential winter storm, we hope you bundle up and stay safe. While it seems far away right now, warmer temps will be here soon allowing us to pull those shorts and flip flops out again!

Cuzin Lou Lou's Tales from Yonder

Editor's Note: Cuzin Lou Lou's tales are to be enjoyed as a light-hearted form of Southern expression

Cuzin Lou Lou and Sister went dress shopping recently for a formal event they were set to attend, and Lou Lou managed to get more than fair share of eyerolls from Sister on the shopping trip!

Sister says it is never 'fun' going dress shopping with Lou Lou, but she always seems to laugh when they do go. So...Lou Lou calls bull on Sister's opinion on the matter!

During this particular shopping trip, Lou Lou actually found the dress she liked most right away, but as Sister continued searching for her dress, Lou Lou tried on a few others just for fun. The best was a formal one-piece pants suit that Lou Lou found.

Lou Lou loved the color of this particular pants suit, and thought to herself that it could be "the one" for the upcoming event...the only problem was there was only one available in the store and it was the wrong size. It was a size (or two) under what Lou Lou actually needed. She grabbed it anyway!

Fast forward to the dressing room, and Lou Lou saved the pants suit for her last one to try. As she began putting it on, she told Sister that it was not going to fit properly but that she was trying it anyway.

With that famous eyeroll, Sister asked, "Why are you trying it if you know it is not going to fit?"

"Because it like it and wanted to see it on me!" was Lou Lou's response.

To Lou Lou it was a reasonable answer to Sister's question.

Well...Lou Lou got the suit on and everything zipped up properly! Win!!

Then, she turned and looked in the mirror. Oh boy!!

That suit was on Lou Lou's body, but it was squeezing tight in places that it really had no place being. Of course, this only made the situation even funnier to Lou Lou.

She began shaking her body and dancing around while Sister just shook her head in disbelief.

If there had been anyone else in the dressing room to hear Lou Lou and/or see her showing off that outfit... well...Sister might have fell completely out with embarrassment. Fortunately, that was not the case.

"You gotta get a picture of this!" Lou Lou said to Sister!

Sister agreed!

Several minutes later, the show was over, and Lou Lou had returned the pants suit to its hanger to be returned to the shelf. She then proceeded to go get the dress she had originally decided on and make her purchase for the event.

Both Lou Lou and Sister were successful in finding and purchasing lovely dresses for the event! And, they had a tone of fun doing it.

As Lou Lou says often to Sister, "Life with me is a riot!"

"It's something for sure!" tends to be Sister's response. She said she just is not sure what that "something" is most days.

A few days later, Sister sent Lou Lou a quote she had found. It read "I am often mistaken for an adult because of my age." Sister says that quote perfectly fits Lou Lou!

Works for Lou Lou!!

Until next time...God Bless, Stay Warm, and Keep Smiling!!

ALEA responds to Monday's home invasion and hostage situation in Crenshaw County; One Arrested

At approximately 11:11 a.m. Monday, January 20, Troopers assigned to the Alabama Law Enforcement Agency's (ALEA) Highway Patrol Division, Special Agents assigned to ALEA's State Bureau of Investigation (SBI), along with members of ALEA's SWAT Team all responded and assisted the Crenshaw County Sheriff's Office with a home invasion and hostage situation in Crenshaw County.

No officers were injured during the course of the incident. The scene has been cleared and deemed safe for those who live and travel in the area.

Nothing further is available as the investigation is ongoing. Once complete, the findings will be turned over to the Crenshaw County District Attorney's Office.

District Attorney says Pike County rape/sodomy suspect to be held with no bond following Aniah's Hearing last week

On January 16th, Defendant Kesean Wilmore appeared before the District Court of Pike County for an Aniah's Law hearing to determine if he would receive a bond in cases where he is charged with Rape 1st Degree and Sodomy 1st Degree.

The State requested the hearing due to the nature of the offenses and the belief that the Defendant should be held without bond. District Attorney James Tarbox represented the State during the hearing.

During the hearing details of the offenses were presented to District Judge Steven Curtis. The victim of the Defendant's alleged conduct is his 3-month-old daughter. On January 10th the victim was taken to Troy Regional Medical Center where it was determined she had suffered traumatic injuries to her vagina and rectum. Doctors have provided the opinion that the injuries were caused by blunt force trauma caused by penetration. The injuries were so significant that the child needed to be transferred to Gainesville, Florida to be treated by a pediatric surgeon.

On January 11th the victim underwent a 3.5-hour procedure to rebuild and repair her vaginal and rectal areas. It is expected that the victim will suffer life-long side effects of the damage alleged to have been inflicted by the Defendant. She is still at risk of needing a colostomy bag.

In addition to the injuries discovered on January 10th, it was determined that the child had multiple broken ribs that were in the process of healing. Further investigation into these injuries led to an additional Child Abuse charge being brought against the Defendant.

The Defendant is charged with 4 offenses- Rape 1st Degree, Sodomy 1st Degree, Incest, and Child Abuse.

Judge Curtis issued a detailed written order denying the Defendant bond.

District Attorney Tarbox stated, "We deal with a lot of serious cases with victims who have been injured in any number of ways. This case is probably the most upsetting and unsettling case that I've seen during my legal career to include a decade in criminal defense and now two years as District Attorney. Seeing someone so innocent and wholly dependent on her parents hurt like this is infuriating. This case is absolutely vile and disgusting. While this case is far from over, I will sleep much better tonight knowing this Defendant is not out on our streets with the ability to victimize anyone else. Our office will work tirelessly to convict this Defendant and get justice in this matter."

Our Family Serving Your Family Since 1934

The Role of Hobbies in Grieving

When a loved one passes away, families must decide what to do with their social media accounts. Many families opt to keep their loved one's accounts active for friends and family to share memories and condolences. Facebook has a special feature where families can convert a deceased loved one's Facebook page into a memorial page.

Memorialized pages, or accounts, are a place on the internet for friends and family to gather and share memories after a person has passed away. Memorializing an account helps keep it secure by preventing any unauthorized person from logging into it.

When an active Facebook account is converted to a memorial account, here's what changes: "Remembering" is displayed next to your loved one's name on their profile; Depending on the privacy settings you choose during setup, extended family and friends can share memories on the memorialized timeline; Content your loved one shared while active, like photos and their posts, stay visible on Facebook to whoever your loved one originally shared with; Your loved one's memorialized profile won't appear in public spaces such as in "Suggestions for People You May Know" or in birthday reminders; No one can log into a memorialized account, and memorialized accounts without an accompanying legacy contact can't be changed.

If you want to change a loved one's Facebook page into a memorial page you can contact Facebook. However, you should also check to see if your loved one named you, or someone else, as a legacy contact.

A Facebook legacy contact is someone designated by a Facebook account-holder while alive to look after their account when it's memorialized after their passing. Anyone with a Facebook account can make this simple arrangement ahead of time.

A Legacy Contact can: Write pinned posts for your loved one's profile. As an example, you can share a final message they have asked to be shared upon their death, or a favorite poem, piece of music or video; View all the person's posts, even if they had their privacy setting set to Only Me; Decide who can see and who can post tributes, and to create an area for those tributes; Delete inappropriate tribute posts; Change who can see posts that the deceased person is tagged in; Remove tags of the deceased person that someone else has posted ;Respond to new friend requests appropriately; Update your loved one's profile picture and cover photo; Request the removal of the account; Turn off the requirement to review posts and tags before they appear in the tributes section, if the deceased person had "timeline review" turned on; Download a copy of anything shared on Facebook.

Views From The Pressbox

By Ricky Mularz, Sports Editor

I write my column over the weekend and as I am writing everyone in my family except me is looking at the weather maps hourly and have their fingers crossed for a big snow event. I don't like cold weather and like snow even less. However, a lot of the kids on by bus last week were talking about how they had ever seen snow. So, I guess just a little may be okay.

For what it is worth….

 The high school basketball season rolled along last week with the Elba Tigers returning to their winning ways with a big area road win over Red Level. The Tigers were mired in a nine-game losing streak heading into the game, but played their best ball of the season and proved that they could win no matter the opponent, or site. They did lose road games to Brantley and Pike Lib, but did show improvement and seem to be getting excited about playing at just the right time. The Lady Tigers won all three of their games last week to push their record to 10-2 and closed in on locking up the area title. While all three wins were by large margins, the Elba girls were challenged at times in two of the games, and just found an extra gear to run away and win. With two weeks left on the schedule I see a lot more excitement for the players and fans.

 It was another good week for area teams and with just a couple of weeks left on the schedule it looks like we can almost look ahead to post-season plans. In boys' action, Brantley kept on winning and will definitely be a favorite come tourney time despite being in the same area with defending state champ Georgiana and very talented McKenzie, while New Brockton is quietly getting better and better and should be a team to keep an eye on the rest of the way, Kinston is a team that plays hard and makes its opponents play hard, and Zion Chapel is dangerous when it is shooting well and can surprise anybody on any given night. Over with the girls, Kinston ended the week 20-0 and is the talk of the state, but must remember to play each game one at a time and not get too excited about its record, while New Brockton is beginning to hit a new gear and appears in position to win its second straight area title, Brantley is definitely a threat to make noise in post-season play, and Zion Chapel is not as easy a win as many think.

 Former Troy Trojan head football coach Larry Blakeney finally received the honor he so richly deserved last week when it was announced he would join former coaches Nick Saban and Urban Myer as 2025 inductees into the College Football Hall of Fame. Blakeney, the head coach at Troy for 24 seasons, was one of only two coaches to move an NCAA Division 2 school into the Division 1 Football Bowl Sub-division, his teams at Troy compiled a record of 178-113-1, and he became the winningest coach ever in the conference. During his career at Troy he was awarded the Johnny Vaught Lifetime Achievement Award, was inducted into the Wiregrass Hall of Fame, the Alabama Sports Hall of Fame and the Troy University Sports Hall of Fame, as well as being named the Sun Belt Conference 'Most Outstanding Coach' on its tenth anniversary and having the field at Veteran's Memorial Stadium named in his honor. Why it took Blakeney ten years to be inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame was certainly not based upon his career at Troy, but instead on his well-publicized departure from Auburn back in 1991. Coach Blakeney was an assistant for Pat Dye at Auburn and during the 1991 season Auburn player Eric Ramsey told the world that Blakeney had paid him $500 and had a taped interview of the incident. Ramsey, who was married, told Blakeney his baby was sick and he had no money for food or other things his family needed. Blakeney gave Ramsey $500 to help meet the expenses, not knowing Ramsey taped the conversation, and after going public the NCAA gave Auburn a two-year post-season sanction and other penalties for lack of institutional control. The NCAA report and penalties cost Blakeney his job, and without a doubt the job he wanted most, the head job at Auburn, his alma mater. While Blakeney never got the head job at Auburn, he landed on his feet at Troy, and now has finally received one of the biggest honors possible for a college coach. A deserving honor for a deserving coach, and man!

 The University of Alabama turned in its 2024 NCAA revenues and expenses report last week and for the second straight year the university reported an overall loss, this time to the tune of nearly $28 million. Alabama reported revenue of almost $235 million, with expenditures of almost $263 million for a net loss of almost $28 million. The university reported a net loss of $14.3 million for the 2023 fiscal year, which means the athletic department is in the red for over $42 million for the last two years! The football program did have over $26 million in profits and the basketball program had nearly $6 million in profits. So, where did the athletic department not do its homework? The biggest expense was in coaching salaries and benefits, which totaled over $65 million in one year, an increase of $28 million from the year before. Support staff was also a huge expense at $41.5 million, a $3 million increase. Alabama's largest source of revenue last year was from contributions, which totaled $75.3 million, followed by media rights, which brought $56.2 million to the university. I don't know who to blame for the $42 million shortfall, but to me its starts at the top, and if any multi-million company lost that much money over a two-year span I imagine leadership would change. I guess the real question is whether or not the powers to be in Tuscaloosa care more about winning in sports than being in the red in the check book.

 In closing…. The coaching carousel has begun to spin a little faster across the area and while the folks in Brantley are thrilled with the recent hire of former Bulldog standout Andrew Lowery as their new head football coach, fans over at G.W. Long, Headland, Barbour County, Flomaton, Highland Home and Northside Methodist are anxiously awaiting news of who will be chosen to lead their teams next season. Could more changes be coming soon? Never say never!

Pike Liberal Arts 57 Elba 50

The Elba Tigers watched a fourth quarter lead slip away Friday night in a 57-50 road loss to the Pike Liberal Arts Patriots, in Troy.

Elba's Jay Wilson hit a pair of three-pointers in the game's opening minute to help the Tigers jump out an early 7-0 lead, and while the Tigers were still on top 11-6 with 2:41 left in the stanza, Pike Lib closed the quarter with a 9-2 run to carry a 15-13 lead into quarter number two. Pike Lib stretched its lead to 22-16 early in the second quarter. However, this time it was Elba's turn to rally as the Tigers slowly chipped away at the deficit and pulled even at 28-28 with 1:24 left in the half on a three-pointer by Javante Griggs.

The teams swapped baskets early in the third quarter until Elba again caught fire and used a 5-0 run to take a 38-36 lead on another three-pointer by Griggs with 3:24 remaining in the quarter. Pike Lib ended the stanza on an 8-0 run to open up a 44-38 advantage, but the Tigers, sparked by Griggs and Jacob Watkins, opened the fourth quarter on a 7-0 run and regained the lead at 47-46 with 5:55 left on the clock. Pike Lib quickly regained the lead, and while Elba scored only one point over the game's final 4:31, the Patriots hit six straight free-throws late to pull away and hand the Tigers the 57-50 road loss.

The Lady Tigers managed to score only two points on a pair of free-throws in the first four minutes of the second quarter as Pike Lib rallied to pull within 19-18. Instruments at Our Disposal
There is a fable about a servant named Aesop, who was told by his master to prepare a banquet for guests. The servant was to serve the best meat possible. According to the tale, Aesop prepared the banquet and served his choice of meat undercovers. When the guest removed the lids, they found cooked tongues. The master was unhappy, and he berated Aesop for his choice of meats. Later, the master instructed Aesop to prepare another banquet. Apparently, the master disliked the guest who would be coming to this banquet, so he ordered his servant to buy the worst meat he could find. When these guests uncovered their plates, they too found tongues! The master was furious, but Aesop explained: "You first wanted the best, so I bought tongues, because tongues have uttered some of the world's greatest truth. Then you ordered to find the worst. I bought tongues because tongues have uttered some of the greatest lies." In these verses Paul issues a strong warning concerning the use of words. As an evangelist, Timothy understood that by the employment of words men and women could be saved. Paul took this opportunity to remind him also of the dangers of the misuse of the spoken word. For this reason, Paul challenged him to avoid godless chatter and to have no fellowship with those who spread false teaching. The tongue can be used to bicker and spread falsehood, or it can be used to teach the truth of God's word the choice belongs to each person for the tongue is but an instrument waiting to be used. – T.T.
